Novel Technology Leads Evolution of Virtual Consultations

Increasingly, online patient consultations have been replacing face-to-face visits with real-time communication, including the exchange of medical information. In aesthetic medicine, online consults can help physicians give prospective patients a preliminary idea of a proposed treatment plan prior to an in person meeting. Historically, cloud-based, secure and reliable online physician-patient "match-ups" have been difficult to come by and implement successfully, but a recent start-up company is ready to change all of that.

THE Aesthetic Awards 2015

Celebrates the Best of Medical Aesthetics

Exemplifying THE Aesthetic Show's tradition of combining the most cutting edge scientific educational program with Hollywood style entertainment, THE Aesthetic Awards ceremony, which took place on Saturday, July 11, 2015, once again exceeded expectations, and entered uncharted territory. Continuing with the theme of male aesthetics, this year's show was co-hosted by not one, but two, well-known aesthetic professionals – Beverly Hills plastic surgeon Leif Rogers, M.D. and his practice partner Rand Rusher, R.N. Amid all the glitz and glamor of male models, red carpet appearances and flowing champagne, world-renowned physicians took the stage to honor a select group of esteemed practitioners for their outstanding contributions to aesthetic medicine.
